Define Problem Statement:

The Customer Problem Statement helps you focus on what matters to create experiences people will love. A well-articulated customer problem statement allows you and your team to find the ideal solution for your customers' challenges. Throughout the process, you'll also be able to empathize with your customers, which helps you better understand how they perceive your product or service.

Example:

Problem Statement (PS)	I am (Customer)	I'm trying to	But	Because	Which makes me feel
PS-1	A college student looking for internships.	Connect with professionals in my field.	I don't know whom to approach or how to start a conversation.	I have very little professional networking experience.	Confused and less confident.
PS-2	A recent graduate seeking employment.	Build a strong professional network.	I receive very few responses to my connection requests.	My messages are generic and not personalized.	Frustrated and discouraged.
PS-3	A working professional planning a career change.	Find people in my target industry.	I cannot identify the right mentors or industry experts.	Networking platforms contain thousands of profiles.	Overwhelmed and uncertain.
PS-4	An entrepreneur looking for business opportunities.	Connect with investors and collaborators.	Finding relevant contacts takes a lot of time.	There is no personalized recommendation system.	Stressed and less productive.
PS-5	A freelancer searching for clients.	Expand my professional network.	I don't know which people are most likely to respond.	Existing platforms don't prioritize connections based on my goals.	Uncertain about where to focus my efforts.
